

RHI: They also have, Phin you would be very familiar with this, a sea-based patrol, out in the Void Sea—

MADGE: Mm-hm.

RHI: To make sure that people who are out do not try to sneak into the Lost District. Phin, you know this 'cause when you're out on the boat, like, there's a three-hundred-foot distance that you have to stay away from the shore in that area, or the Spirit Wardens will like, chase you off, or y'know, board your boat and ask to see your papers. There was one time where the boat drifted too close and they harassed you guys for a couple hours before they realized you were just fishers and let you go. So...

MADGE: There's probably like—among my friend group growing up, it was a tradition of like, when you're thirteen, you get as close to the barrier as you can get, and...

KIM: Oh, that's cute, I like that.

RHI: Yeah, yeah—[laughs] yeah.

JOSIE: [laughs]